Notice No. 170

All members,
NSG SAS Ltd.
Through Society web site

Subject: Notice No. 170 - Pollution of atmosphere of the Society by residents/members

Sir,

Time to time inspection of Society is revealing a downward trend. Few residents/members are playing with the lives of other members by violating building Bye Laws of the Society. These members have either opened kitchen room water outlet or bath room water out let into the storm water drain which is only meant for removing raining water. The result is that their dirty water is passing through the houses of other members causing a great inconvenience to others: suffocated by foul smell, overflowing of sewer system, etc. Storm water drain has become a source of breeding place of mosquitoes, perpetual blockage of sewer system, etc.

2. The defaulting members are being continuously informed of the nuisance through Security personal visiting their houses. Instead of adhering to follow building Bye Laws, these defaulting members become angry and demand that Security In-charge should not visit their houses.

3.. In the light of the above facts, the defaulting members are requested to follow the building Bye Laws and are being again requested to follow the laid down procedure/rules and regulation. It is being again put on record that these violations if not corrected on their own, Management would be forced to put it up to the appropriate authority. Once such a step is taken, there will be no relief ever granted.

Yours faithfully,

Sd/-
